Eliminates previous software maintenance and upgrade fees!

November 17, 2003 - Houston, Texas - Today, OQ Partners, the partnership of Center Point Energy and OverNite Software, announced that the Cullman-Jefferson Gas District of Alabama has selected the company's internet based training solution, eWebOQ.

In order to meet the spirit of the DOT regulation the Cullman-Jefferson management team wanted to develop their employees' skills accordingly. Therefore utilizing the most efficient and cost effective solution through the use of advanced technology was paramount to their decision. The combination of both the internet and the eWebOQ training solution will allow Cullman-Jefferson to deliver required training for all mandated employees.
